BOOM A-1

11. 3 (A)
2-S, BRADFORD/JOAN.

RRADFORD: Five seconds, thet's narvellous.
Instantaneous would be better.

JOAN: Would it?

HOLD 2-S. as BRADFORD goes u/s L.

BRADFORD: You're very quiet, Joan.
You've been like that all day.

JOAN: Have I?

BRADFORD: Something wrong?

JOAN: No. Not really.

BRADFORD comes fwd.

BRADFORD: This?

JOAN: Partly.

BRADFORD: What's the problem? Can I help?

JOAN: It's not a problem. Not the sort you can solve, anyway. It's ... it's personal.

BRADFORD: Family?

JOAN goes u/s R.

JOAN: I'd rather not talk about it.

12. 2 (A) I want to leave.

C.M.S. BRADFORD.

Proview 3

(On 2, Shot 12)

BRADFORD: Leave? Here? Whatever for? Good heavens, you can't go now./ 13. BRADFORD moves We're just about there. Six twds JOAN slightly. months and we've cracked it. 1 (B) 2-S. 14. BOOM B-1 (2 TO POS.B. SAME SET - FAST) JOAN: I know. Let JOAN go R. & HOLD BRADFORD. BRADFORD: Doesn't that mean anything to you? 15. M.S. JOAN coming d/s plightly. JOAN: Well, of course it does. You know that. (3 TO POS.B, HUNTER'S OFFICE) BRADFORD: (PAUSE) Well, then! JOAN: I'm sorry. 1 (B) C.M.S. BRADFORD. 16. BRADFORD: You owe me a bit more than that, Joan. 17. 2 (B) M.S. JOAN. JOAN: I don't know what to say. When BRING her d/s to 2-S I first come here I was totally with BRADFORD L. involved with your ideas. I wish I'd thought more about the implications. BRADFORD: Implications? You've been in on it all the way through. JOAN: I mean as a potential weapon. The sort of ... BRADFORD: A woapon? JOAN: One they could use.

(On 2, Shot 17)

BRADFORD: Don't be silly. There are thousands to uses we can exploit. We're not interested in germ warfare.

JOAN: How do you know that?

BRADFORD: I don't know ...

JOAN: How do you know that that sort of result wouldn't be taken out of our hands and used indiscriminately, politically?

BRADFORD: Joan, you know as well as I do, no one can control the uses that are made of discoveries. It doesn't stop us making discoveries. That's what our work is. We're involved with science, Joan - life. Not politics.

PAN JOAN R.

JOAN: I'm sorry. I've made my mind up.

18. 1 (B)
M.C.U. BRADFORD.

BRADFORD: Well, I'm sorry too. But you'll have to think again.

19. 2 (B) M.C.U. JOAN.

JOAN: What do you mean - have to?

20. 1 (a/b) (M.C.U. Bradford)

BRADFORD: Joan, for more than two years now you've been working with me, very closely. You can't just walk out now. Apart from anything else, Security will want to know why.

21. 2 (a/b) (M.C.U. Joan)

JOAN: I'm very sorry, but I intend to leave.

(2 TO POS.C, HUNTER'S OFFICE)

HUNTIR: We were at College together.

MERES: Yes, sir. You did mention.

I'll mention it again.
HUNTER: / A very able biologist.
Which explains perhaps his obsession with women. /

23. 1 (C) 2-S, HUNTER & MERES.

MIRES: He's very clever with bugs, isn't he?

HUNTER: He's a very clever man all round, Meres. He knows how to wipe us all out. And microbes cost rather less than bombs. He's useful.

MERES: Yes indeed, sir.

PAN HUNTER L. to sit, & LOSE MERES.

HUNTER: Except that with Bradford it's all locked up in his mind. He's a theoretician. No practical skill at all. His assistant, on the other hand, is both brilliant and practical.

24. 2 (C)
3-S. HUNTER PERLS
& HONTER.

A girl, Meres. Between them they're packing enough into one test-tube to wipe out Glasgow.

/N.B. LCHITOR NOV/ /SHOVS HIGH SHOT/ /OF DESK WITH BRADFORD/ /CAH.4B (Shot 24A)/

MERES: Or Peking, sir?

HUNTER: Or Los Angeles.

(JOAN enters to 2-S on monitor)

(On 2, Shot 24)

HUNTER: (CONTD.) That's her now.

Hiss Mather. Unhappily she's decided to leave him. You brought her file?

IERES: Yellow, sir. Occasional surveillance.

BOOM B-1

ERADFORD: (ON SCREEN)

Now Joan, what's all this

25. 1 (C) 2-S, HUNTER & MERES. about?

HUNTER: Bradford set this interview up. We recorded it yesterday.

Miss Mather could be a security risk.

26. 2 (C)

2-S, HUNTER & LIRES

with HONITOR.

JOAN: (ON SCREEN) Well, I've been thinking. I'm going to take a few weeks off. Then maybe I'll try teaching for a while ...

BRADFORD: (ON SCREEN) Anything except germ warfare?

27. 4 (B) (LABORATORY)
2-S, BRADFORD & JOAN.

JOAN: (ON SCREEN) I want to forget that, Dr. Bradford.

BRADFORD: Even if someone else develops it? They could, you know.

JOAN: It isn't political. Not CND or anything like that. I just can't go on, and you can't make me, Dr. Bradford.

BRADFORD: God knows, I don't want to ...
And in any case, Joan, I can finish the project without you now. But I shall miss your efficiency.

(On 4, Shot 27)

JOAN: Thank you.

BRIDFORD: By the way, those findings you were going to let me have -

28. 1 (C) (HUNTER'S OFFICE) Brierly, wasn't it?

JOAN: (ON SCREEN) You mean the work he did at the Cavendish in '65? It's in his report. It may be relevant. Page 17, I think. Last

29. 2 (C) two paragraphs./

(Try to include monitor)

BRADFORD: (ON SCREEN) Yes?

JOAN: (ON SCREEN) The mixture of bases obtained by hydrolosis consists of two purine bases, adenine and guadenine, and two pyrinidine bases, cytosine and urisil. Thus if N equals C minus NU2/...

30. 1 (C) 2-S, HUNTER & MERIS.

HINTER comes below desk.

PAN him R. to MONITOR.

HUNTER: Word for word. God knows how much more information she has on the tip of her tongue. That's the real danger. This astonishing memory of hers. (HE SWITCHES OFF SOUND ON MONITOR).

31. 3 (B) Well, what do you make of her?

32. 2 (C) IMPRES: A little naive, sir, isn't she?

HUNTER: Perhaps she saves her sophistication for the microbes.

34. 1 (C) MERES: Yes, sir.

(On 1, Shot 34)

PAN HUNTLE L. of MERES to 2-S.

HUNTUR: "Ve'll run a test on her. Hypnosis. Just to be sure. One likes to be fair, Meres.

MERIS: Of course, sir.

M.S. HUNTER, moving R.

HUNTER: It's not her loyalty that bothers me. It's her memory.

Loyalty's expendable under stress.

You should know that.

(On 1, Shot 40)

BRADFORD: She's a nervous girl.

41. 2 (B)
3-S, BRADFORD, HUNTER, MERES.

As HUNTUR sits, LOSE MERES.

HUNTER: We don't want to offend her modesty. Just run a test on her.

BRADFORD: What sort of test?

42. 1 (B) HUNTER: Hymnosis. We need to see M.C.U. BRADFORD. how good that photographic memory is.

Very shy.

BRADFORD: I thought you would.

Will you send for her?

43. 2 (B)

3-S, BRADFORD, MERES,

HUNTER.

HUNTER: No. You will. We don't

44. 1 (B) come into it at all.

C.M.S. MERIS, moving R.

MERIS: She'll see a fellow we know in Harley Street.

45. 2 (B)

3-S, BRADFORD rising to f/g L. with HUNTER & MIRES.

BRADFORD: I wouldn't want her to think I felt she was untrustworthy. Because I don't.

HUNTIR: You did say you thought there might be something else bothering her. Something other than this ... moral issue.

HOLD 3-S. as BRADFORD Xs R. f/g.

RRADFORD: Oh, it was only a feeling.
Nothing definite.

HUNTER: Yes. Well, let's think about that later, if we need to. We'll get these tests over and done with first. It may be that her recall fades.

(On 2, Shot 45)

ERADFORD: You think she's mixed up in something?

LIT HUNTER go R.

HUNTER: She may be. I want to find out.

BRADFORD: Suppose she is - what will you do?

TILT SLOWLY to JOAN & PULL OUT to 2-S.

SNELL: "Utilisation of Nucleotides".

JOAN: If nucleic acid is subject to less drastic action than those which lead to complete hydrolosis, various fragments may still be identified. It is for this reason that in the event of survivors, it's decided to pursue the effect of hydrolosis only.

48. 4 (B)
2-S, HUNTIR & MERIS.

SNELL: Thank you, Joan. Now what's this about taxonomic separation?

49. 2 (D)

M.C.U. JOAN (including Snell's PAPERS)

JOAN: The increase in the crysballographic properties was found to be parallel to the taxonomic separation.

Considerable polymorphic crystalline form of the same oxyhemoglobin was noted. We may therefore conclude that if this microbe were to be used as a weapon of war, loss of life would be total over a considerable area -

TILT UP with Snell's PAPERS, & PULL BACK to 2-S. over his shoulder, as he comes f/g R.

SNELL: Thank you, Joan. Now I want you to have a little sleep.

Dr. Bradford will be here when you wake up. All right?

JOAN: Yes. Thank you. I am sleepy.

TRING SNELL & DRADFORD to COUCH for 3-S with JOAN.

SNELL: Wake up, Joan. After three. 1 - 2 - 3.

Let SNELL GO, & TIGHTEN SLIGHTLY.

JOAN: Oh - I've been sleeping.
I'm sorry.

TRADFORD: Don't apologise.

JOAN: Was it all right? Have they said anything yet?

HOLD 2-S. as TRADFORD goes R.

ERADFORD: They say you can go if you want to.

PUSH IN TIGHT as JOAN turns.

JOAN: That's morvellous ...
They don't think I'm a risk then?
